2011 Panelists

Kahika Sahay graduated from UR in May 2010 with a Bachelors in Neuroscience with clusters in Sanskrit and Womens Studies. While at UR, Kashika was a staff reporter for the Campus Times. She studied abroad in New Delhi in Spring 2009 (her first ever trip to India) where she met fellow panelist Reema Singh (also on maiden voyage to India). Crazy adventures ensued and an amazing friendship was born! This past year, Kashika worked as a study enroller for UR and did private market research for the Greater Rochester Health Foundation. In the fall, Kashika is moving to Atlanta to pursue a Masters in Public Health at Emory University.

Reema Singh graduated from the University of Rochester in 2010 with a double major in Cultural Anthropology and Psychology and a minor in French. During her time at the UR, Reema pursued professional and community outreach experiences in varied fields including: Urban Development, Refugee Resettlement, Aging and Health, and Environmental Health. She completed a study abroad in New Delhi and was an active member of the UR RAAS dance team. She is currently working in Pittsburgh, PA as a Research Assistant with the RAND Corporation; a think tank that conducts nonpartisan public policy research and analysis.

Amit Sangave is a 4th year medical student at the University of Rochester and native of Rochester NY. After attending high school at McQuaid he recieved his BS in Engineering at the George Washington University. He hopes to pursue a career in ophthalmology and is very interested in international work.

Isha Saini graduated from Pittsford Sutherland High School, and recently graduated from Cornell University with a BS in Biological Sciences, and two minors in Business and Communications. At Cornell, she served as the President of her business fraternity, Finance Director of Cornell Health International, did scientific research, and was a campus tour guide. She has interned at the University of Rochester (Community and Preventive Medicine), PepsiCo, and Kraft. She has also worked part-time as a research assistant at Columbia University. She will begin working full-time at Kraft this summer.

Panel Moderator

Pavan Patel is a sophomore at Sutherland High School. In May this year he was one of the three winners of the Young Entrepreneur Academy's E. Phillips Saunders Scholars Bright Idea Competition at the Rochester Institute of Technology. He enjoys basketball, football, hiking and outdoor activities. He has been a member of student council for the past 5 years. As part of a networking program, he studied for two weeks in a private school in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He will be doing an internship at Strong Hospital this summer in the department of vascular surgery.

Event Sponsor

Rohit Rao is at Google in New York City. He graduated from Brighton High School in 2000. He earned dual undergraduate degrees in Electrical Engineering and in Math from MIT. Also at MIT he received his Masters degree in Math after which he joined Google in 2005. Rohit served as one of the panelists for ICC's First Annual Panel Discussion. He liked the event immensely and has therefore become a sponsor for this event since the past 3 years, so that other students can benefit from the panel discussions.
